Britmums Daily Photo Challenge: Day 19 – Pink.

No girlies (apart from me in this house) and a distinct lack of anything pink apart from some Gin I had this past week...quell surprise!

My photo today is of a really lovely new tippie I've discovered by Fentimans in partnership with Bloom Gin.

It's a ready mixed bottle of grown up loveliness which contains Bloom London Dry Gin mixed with Rose Lemonade, which gives it it's lovely pink colour.

It's really delicious!!

(Think an alcoholic Turkish Delight and you're almost there...)

It's quite sweet, but I have a sweet tooth so that suited me just fine and it made for a really lovely, different drink at the weekend. My husband wasn't quite so keen (he's an ale man) but that meant I got to drink it all without sharing so I was (not so secretly) over the moon about this!!

If you're into your rose flavour food/drink, be sure to give this a go.

I bought my Fentimans Rose Lemonade with Bloom London Dry Gin from Ocado.

Pretty in Pink...
