

Tiny Dancer...

So from the comfort of my sofa, I am being entertained with a 'dance show' by my middle one.

He's unorthodox, cannot be categorised into any particular dance genre and is very 'expressive'.

I'm not sure he will make the Royal Ballet anytime soon, but a love of dance (or leaping about) seems to be in his blood at least...

Without further ado, I give you 1 minute 50 of my 6 year old being a Tiny Dancer....
