

Breakfast Wars...

I hate breakfast time. Or any mealtime for that matter. Screaming, shouting no, crying, throwing food...and that's just from me!

This little one is my mealtime nemesis. My other 2 boys were messy, but this one is on a whole new level. He can make a mess with a single Rice Krispy.

It's war...

"This chocolate spread on toast is a nightmare for mummy to get off me, so I've smeared it all over myself and in my hair. Ta-da!"

Mummy: "You can keep that chocolate spread in your hair all day buster, and you're having dry cereal tomorrow..."
