

Crazy bag lady...

What with the 5p carrier bag charge coming into force in the UK today, I just had a count up and it turns out my carrier bag hoarding, which my husband gets so angry about, has an upside.

I think if I was to sell them all I'd have enough to go on a luxury round the world cruise...

And despite my plastic carrier bag prosperity, I was still tempted to stick it to the man when asked at the self service checkout today if I'd bought my own carrier bag...I hadn't, but I was so tempted to say I had ☐

(For the Eco conscious amongst you, you'll be glad to know I've invested in 20 bags for life. And I'll be setting up my new business from tomorrow selling my plastic ones for 4p each outside morrisons – I'm a whole 1p cheaper than them).
