

Evacuate!!! Evacuate!!!

Ah, nothing like a mass evacuation from the bath by your children because the toddler has decided to take a poop in the bath to finish off the day.

I can't think of a nicer way to spend my evening.

(I can also safely conclude that the rate of a runny poo dispersing in the bath is pretty swift when your children are playing a 'whirlpool' game by spinning round and round in the water...)

Grim.
