

Star Wars Snack Attack!

Geek Alert!!

I'm a huge Star Wars fan.

As is my husband and our eldest boy...who happens to be called Luke. Pure coincidence I assure you... ☐

(Oh and the Toddler is called Ben. He was born and named before the new movie came out but that name now has renewed Star Wars significance and is creeping up the geek scale what with Kylo Ren (real name Ben) and Obi-Wan 'Ben' Kenobi)

Anyhow, I digress...

I just saw a link to these Star Wars themed party foods and had to share them with you all.

Some are plain stupid, some look like the contents of my toddlers nappy whilst he's teething (Jabba the Hummus) but some are pretty good and are a great idea for a kids (or adults!) party you have coming up.

I'm right in there with my elbows out if a plate of Storm Trooper marshmallows hit the party buffet...

Enjoy my young Jedi's 🧡☐
