

When is enough, enough?

One of the hardest decisions i have to make every year which tears me apart...

When has the Christmas cake had enough alcohol ploughed into so it is ready to be iced?

I've left it long enough I think...It was beginning to leak out some of the precious alcohol under the strain.

Sleep well my fruit and booze filled friend.

Until we meet again...

