

Deer with a Beer: Day 8

Today has been a performing bonanza in the Knutter household.

The eldest one had his class assembly on Ancient Greek Myths and Legends and the middle one had his last ever Nativity. Both of them did really well, apart from a bit of nose picking and eating by one of them in front of the whole school...boys.

I am now officially feeling 'festive'. Though that could be down to the Mulled Wine I am currently supping.

Chin chin!

So, yesterday we left Bear with a cheeky Monkey. What is happening today?

Time for Deer with a Beer day 8.

Sit down, pour yourself a beverage and (try to) enjoy...
