

Feeling Festive...

Feeling festive...

I decided to try and make some espresso martinis this evening...purely a test run for Christmas, obviously.

I can't serve guests a duff drink...

Anyhow, 3 test run glasses later (just to be sure) and I think I've mastered them.

Now I'm trying to put the kids to bed and make dinner...

In hindsight, I should've put the kids to bed and made dinner before the martinis.

Isn't hindsight a pain in the arse.

Chin chin!
